Three Domains Model

Conditions where traditional medicine should be combined with lifestyle changes, diet, or psychological support to achieve better outcomes.

Conditions that require collaboration with biomedical professionals or referral to ensure safety and proper management—such as when serious illness is suspected or integrative care is needed.